Dear Families,

February is already here, and we are halfway through winter! Whenever possible, we encourage families to take advantage of the season by enjoying fun and safe winter activities outdoors with your children.

February is a special month as we recognize Heart Health Month, Dental Health Month, and Black History Month. We encourage families to support healthy habits at home by including more fruits and vegetables in meals and encouraging children to make smart food choices.

In celebration of Black History Month, our classrooms will be learning about and discussing several important African American heroes during group time. These conversations help children build awareness, respect, and appreciation for diversity.

Throughout the month, we will also be focusing on lessons centered around love, kindness, and tolerance, helping children learn how to care for themselves and others.

As always, we are committed to doing our very best to support and care for our families. Thank you for your continued trust and partnership.
